

Stonewall Confederate Cemetery

Stonewall Cemetery is located on part of a plot given as a burial site by General Lewis Lawrence Griffin, when he founded Griffin in 1840. Several hundred Confederates and one Union soldier, casualties of the Battle of Atlanta and Jonesboro, from the hospital at old Synodical College and the battlefields, are buried here. The principal monument here was among the first to the Confederate dead. The first recorded Confederate Memorial Day in Griffin was October 26, 1866 making it among the first in Georgia. Rev. D. L. Gwinn, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, delivered an eloquent and appropriate address on that occasion. The monument is topped with an Angel. There are cannons on all four corners, and what can be read is as follows,

"In memorium our Confederate Dead."

To the right of the Angel it reads:

"Erected by the Ladies Memorial Association of Griffin, Ga. 1869".

On the back the reading is as follows:

"Rest! Soldier! Rest." and then On the right hand side of the monument the reading is:

"Now sleep the brave, who sink to rest. By all their country's wishes blest. The Laurel leaf of shining green will still around their tomb be seen." This granite boulder is to the "Home of the Brave", the women of Griffin and Spalding county who gave their services during the War Between the States from 1861 to 1865. The James S. Boynton Chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy No. 222 have placed this statue and the reading is as follows: "No act of justice, no failure of duty, no shadow of wrong has left a blot upon their souls or a strain upon these memories." A. D. 1922.

There are 462 plots listed here, many more are unmarked and unknown. If you have additional listings, please email them to Chuck at ltlbro@bellsouth.net
