

THE COMMERCE HISTORICAL AND GENEALOGY SOCIETY NEWSLETTER

The above photo of unloading of sheep on the banks of the Mississippi River at Commerce, Missouri, was donated to the Museum by Lloyd Corvick. Mr. Corvick donated other photo's which will be featured in up coming issues.

1999

VOLUME 3 ISSUE 1

JANUARY/FEBRUARY

FROM THE SCOTT COUNTY NEWSBOY dated September 1, 1894:

Commerce vs. Charleston.

Commerce Riversides defeated the Charleston Browns Wednesday to the tune of 13 to 2.

The battery work of Ancil and Lynch was the feature of the game— Ancil striking out 19 men and letting them down with but two hits— Charleston failing to score till the ninth inning, caused by errors on the Commerce side.

SCORE.

Innings.....	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Commerce.....	0	5	0	0	1	0	7	0	0	— 13
Charleston.....	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	— 2

About fifty ladies and gentlemen, of Charleston, came up for the purpose of shouting themselves hoarse for their favorites— but their turn never came.

*****

— Misses Frances Steck and Addie Wylie have been visiting in Commerce this week.

— Jesse R. Berry, of Commerce township, died on the 24th ult., aged 61 years. He was buried at Commerce on the 27th.

A new geyser of the first magnitude has started up in Yellowstone park. It throws a stream of water fully as high as "Old Faithful," and is very noisy in its eruption.

DESERVES A MEDAL.

Mrs. R. F. Moorman, of Monette, Barry county, the other day, became the mother of four children— three girls and a boy.

Killed by a Runaway Team.

L. N. Gibson, a prominent farmer of Cole county, was instantly killed the other evening near Russellville by a runaway team.

Labor Day.

Gov. Stone has issued a proclamation requesting the observance of Labor day in Missouri. Labor day falls on September 3.

Eloped and were Married.

Charles W. Hickson and Miss Maggie Rogers, an eloping couple from Cooper county, were married at Boonville a few days ago.

The Boys Were Mistaken.

The two young sons of William Hulzy, Jr., a Franklin county farmer, filled their father with shot, mistaking him for a thief.

A Fatal Jump.

Jake Morris, a young man, was killed at Farber, Audrain county, by jumping from a train. His home was in Mexico.