

Historical Society Publications

- Help to set research in the proper historical context.
- Useful for citation analysis (e.g., to construct the widest possible data pool in which to look for ancestors).
- Provide in-depth provides of individuals, communities, etc. to which our ancestor belonged.
- They contain such items as genealogies, transcripts and abstracts of local records, probate records, church records, and cemetery records.
- And more....

