

What Kind of Records Can't be Found at Home?

A fellow genealogist had been hunting for a particular ancestor for 28 years.

All that he knew about the person is that he might have worked aboard ships as a young man.

Prior to his trip he became aware of the Mariner Library.

While at the library he found a written letter, meal lists from the 1850's and a myriad of other documents that related to his family.
