Had Been in Poor Health The Past Five Years—Highly Respected By All

Mrs. Fred Beckman passed away in Norfolk last Friday morning at ten o'clock. For the past two or three vears Mrs. Beckman had been poor health and though everything that was known to medical science was done for her relief it was not to be and she was called to her reward on that day. Her many friends in the community had hoped that she would find relief from her ailment and that she would regain her health but it was known for some time that her condition was serious and while her death was not unexpected, yet it came as a shock to friends and neighbors and there is sincere mourn
