The Lebanon Genealogical Society meets on the first Friday during September through June at 12:30 in the Lebanon Library Conference Room. We have a speaker at most meetings covering a wide range of topics including both Genealogy and Oregon history.

Other membership benefits include:

- A bi-monthly newsletter filled with information, hints and tips to aid your genealogy research as well as many helpful internet links.
- Monthly email reminders of upcoming genealogy meetings in our area.
- Members who are willing to help you with your research.
- A chance to preserve a part of history for future generations.

Please visit the Lebanon Genealogical Society's extensive book collection housed in a special room at the Lebanon Library. In addition to the large holdings on local history and genealogy the collection also includes books that will help in your research worldwide.

You will find a large collection of materials pertaining to Linn County people, places and events.

Lebanon newspapers from the late 1880's to 2007 can be viewed on microfilm.

Two computers are available for researching your ancestors on ancestry.com.
